

U. S. WILL BE LAST TO SIGN PEACE TREATY

Ratification By Senate May Be Long Deferred

PARIS, March 14.—(By The Associated Press.)—An interesting question of importance to the United States has arisen here, upon its answer depends the continued operation of much war legislation, such as control of railroads, the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of liquors and similar enactments, with reference to the date of which the war officially will cease.

Assuming that Secretary of State Lansing will sign the peace treaty for the United States, it is pointed out that this will not become effective as far as the United States is concerned until it is ratified by the United States senate. Ratification may be long deferred because the senate is in recess and will remain so until called in special session by the president.

This being the case it is possible that the United States might be placed in the peculiar position of technically being alone at war with Germany long after her associates had formally concluded peace.

It has been suggested that in the peace treaty itself the date for formally ending the war be placed far enough in the future to permit of action by the senate in the interim.

Status of Treaties

It has been learned that the status of secret treaties and conventions made during the war again has arisen. Information obtained today from some of the American delegates to the peace conference was to the effect that the action of a majority of the commission dealing with the subject of Grecian boundaries in declaring that the treaty of London of 1913 was effective will not be permitted to go unchallenged and could not become effective unless ratified by the council of ten which they asserted would refuse its approval. The decision relative to the treaty of London which is one of those secret conventions made during the war is regarded as of the gravest importance, it being declared to be in direct conflict with one of President Wilson's fourteen points and one relative to the right of self-determination of small nations. It is held that the decision of the majority of the commission was upheld it would of necessity carry with it affirmation of Italy's claims to nearly all the eastern shore of the Adriatic as well as of other agreements for the disposition of colonial possessions which have been regarded as proper subjects for action of the supreme council and the peace conference itself. A point of especial interest is that the action was taken by the commission thru a combination of votes of Great Britain, France and Italy.

Take up Labor Question

Methods of enforcing rulings of the international labor bureau and fixing of voting power of the nations represented are the only questions under consideration by the commission on international labor legislation. Both questions may be determined next week. With the exception of these points the British draft for organization of the bureau and the methods of its procedure have been adopted without change. The recommendation to have the first meeting of the international labor machine held in Washington will be incorporated in the report as well as the date of the meeting. The British recommendation that the rulings of the bureau be enforced with the same machinery the league of nations employs has not found unqualified support especially on the part of Americans. Those opposing this plan do not believe it advisable or practical to use the full force of the league to compel obedience and suggest instead a plan of moral suasion.

They would have the findings of the bureau referred for consideration by the countries interested in believing public discussion and moral opinion would prove more effective in bringing about compliance.

Various proposals, such as adoption of universal eight hour laws, laws affecting child labor, and woman labor and the internationalization of labor which would, it is believed, lift the barriers erected by immigration laws are not to be included in the commission's report to the council.

WILL NOT INVESTIGATE BAD WHEAT CHARGES

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Chairman Gore announced tonight that the Senate Agriculture Committee would not investigate charges made before Chief City Magistrate McAdoo in New York that bad wheat was sold to the Belgian relief commission and after being milled was sent into Belgium where it caused the deaths of a thousand persons.

Failure of congress to authorize the committee to sit after congress adjourned and to provide funds for the investigation caused the matter to be dropped.

Allied Losses Along The Vaga River Are Light

ARCHANGEL, Thursday March 13.—(By The Associated Press.)—Compared to the losses inflicted upon the enemy, the allied casualties in the fighting along the Vaga river since Feb. 28 have been extremely light. It is estimated that the Bolsheviks have lost at least 500 killed.

The American casualties from Feb. 28 to March 9 inclusive were five killed on the Vaga front and 10 on the Dvina front. No officers were killed. One American soldier is missing and two officers and thirty men were wounded. The total American casualties to date in North Russia follow:

Killed in action—Officers 4; men 71.
Died of wounds—Officers 1; men 18.
Missing—Men 36.
Died of disease—Officers 2; men 67.
Drowned—Officers 11; men 241.

The health of the expeditionary forces since the Spanish influenza epidemic in September and October has been excellent. Of the 69 deaths from disease 63 occurred before January 4. Throughout the fighting the American troops have generally been greatly outnumbered, but the losses inflicted upon the enemy have been at least five times those suffered by the Americans. As the newly mobilized Russian troops are becoming trained, they are gradually relieving the strain to which the American, British and French forces were put in the early days of the campaign.

All American troops are now enjoying regular rest periods either at Archangel or at convenient villages behind the lines.

Sec. Daniels And Party Will Leave Today for France

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Before departing today for New York en route to France Secretary Daniels speaking in regard to the aircraft development said "already we are working toward the first trans-Atlantic flight. Our plans are definite and preparations are proceeding smoothly. The flight was ordered because it was a logical step in aircraft development." Secretary Daniels said in their conferences abroad with officials of the British, French and Italian admiralties his three chief technical advisers will give particular attention to aircraft.

Congress later will be asked to make a special appropriation for the necessary experimental work. Mr. Daniels will be joined tomorrow aboard the U. S. S. Le Valhalla by Rear-Admiral Selbert F. Griffin, chief engineer, David W. Taylor, chief constructor, and Ralph Earl, chief of ordnance who will make the trip with him. He expects to return by May 1, after visiting Paris, London and Rome. The three admirals will confer with European experts in their own lines and visit shops and dock yards where guns, engines and war-craft are under construction.

"I am our purpose in the navy to keep not only abreast of aviation in the future," Secretary Daniels said in reply to a question as to the part aircraft development will play in the conferences overseas, "but to lead the way in the development of this new art. Under the whip and spur of conditions, much was accomplished here. The liberty motor is the most striking instance. It is still unrivaled in its own field—that of a high power aircraft motor suitable for rapid production in quality. That was our war problem—production and we solved it. Now however, with the stress of war behind us, our problem is to advance, the science of air navigation; to explore every avenue of possible development; to build better, faster, safer aircraft from year to year as we build better ships for the navy. For that purpose we must devote ourselves to orderly experiment in peace times. We must keep in touch constantly with what other nations are doing, profiting by their experience and sharing with them the benefit of our own."

AGED ADVENTURER DEAD.

Rockland, Me., March 14.—An adventurous career was ended today with the death of Charles Harriman, aged 69 years. He ran away from home when a youth to enlist in the navy in which he served for nine years. He fought against the Indians and was wounded in the fight in which Sitting Bull was killed.

In 1881 Harriman won the national championship as a long distance pedestrian walking 520 miles and 240 yards in a six day race in Chicago.

DIES FROM INJURIES

Freeport, Ill., March 14.—August Miller, the Green county, Wisconsin man who hurled himself in front of a moving train at Red Oak yesterday, died during the night.

GERMANY READY TO SURRENDER FLEET FOR FOOD

Under Secretary of State Declares Situation As Hopeless

BERLIN, March 11, Tuesday.—(By The Associated Press.)—Under Secretary of State von Braun, before leaving Berlin with the German commission to participate in the conference at Brussels regarding the turning over by Germany of her mercantile fleet and securities in exchange for food, received the correspondent and informed him that Germany was prepared to begin immediately the surrender of her entire fleet and conclude an agreement concerning the other conditions in return for a definite agreement specifying the amount of food deliverable until the next harvest, the price and conditions of payment for it.

Regarding food conditions in Germany Herr von Braun said that Chemnitz, Dresden and other cities of Saxony were now on a potato ration of only two pounds weekly, while Cologne, Aix la Chapelle and other western cities had none whatever. This was partly due to railroad strikes and frost.

Herr von Braun declared the situation was hopeless. The weekly ration of butter and margarine scarcely averaged thirty five to forty grammes thruout Germany and milk which was reserved only for children and invalids, could not be found in sufficient quantities to give infants of one and two years the daily quart to which they were limited.

No Diet for Babies

"The Americans," continued the Minister, "do not realize the lamentable effect of this utterly inadequate and unsuitable diet upon our babies and the aged, to say nothing of the population of more vigorous ages. The infant mortality during the last three months of 1918 in twenty of the largest cities of Germany amounted to 6,142 as compared with 4,176 in the preceding year, or an increase of 47 per cent. Our medical experts attributed the increase entirely to the inability of the mothers to nurse children on their scanty diet."

"This alarming increase in infant mortality is a development of recent date. Infant mortality during the first three years of the war had even decreased as compared with peace years. "Food conditions however, reached a point where nursing mothers could not even nurse themselves. Their breasts offered nothing for the little ones, and recent months show a large increase in infant mortality particularly in large cities whose milk supply has reached the vanishing point owing to the absence of cattle fodder, the slaughter of milch cows and transportation developments. Specialists on children report that the mortality has continued to grow steadily during the months since the armistice. "Unless immediate and adequate relief in the shape of food supplies comes our rising generation is condemned either to death or to weakened maturity. I cannot believe that the American people wish that."

GUNMEN CAPTURED IN RUNNING FIGHT

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., March 14.—According to a telephone message received by the Argus this morning from the Ottumwa Courier three of the five paroled convicts who escaped from the county jail here last Sunday were captured in a running gun battle with a posse of farmers, railroad men and officers at Forest, Ia., late yesterday.

The message stated that the men had broken into a railroad car at Eldon, Ia., and the chase followed to Forest, Ia., where the capture was effected. Although the men gave different names from any of the escaped prisoners, the description of them leads the authorities here to believe that the captured men are Ira Hodge, Earl Frazier, and Earl Morrison, the three who were nearly captured by a posse near Muscatine. Sheriff John G. Miller left this morning for Ottumwa accompanied by a deputy and a state parole agent.

AGED FARMER GUILTY OF MURDER

ELGIN, Ill., March 14.—After Morris Fleming, 73 year old wealthy Woodstock farmer had been found guilty of assault with a deadly weapon by a jury in the McHenry county circuit court this morning, suit for $10,000 personal damages was started against Fleming by Attorney for Homer Pierson, also of Woodstock.

Pierson was shot by Fleming early last December during a quarrel over the right to hunt on Fleming's land.

VALUATION APPROVED

Washington, March 14.—Secretary Daniels announced today that he had approved the valuation of $456,744 fixed by the naval valuation board on the 5,110 acre tract commandeered at Quantico, Va., for a permanent marine corps base.

DECIDE AGAINST AERIAL DUEL

Paris, March 13.—The four seconds of Leon Vauderane and Robert Schreber, former army aviators, who proposed an aerial duel, met this morning and decided that as a state of war still exists it is impossible to permit any duel in France. Therefore the question of the challenge has been postponed until the treaty of peace has been signed.

Admiral Sims Praises Work Of America In War

LONDON, March 14.—Vice-Admiral Sims, commander of the American naval forces in the war zone, in a farewell speech made at the American Luncheon Club today said that in 1910 when sixteen American warships spent several weeks in European waters he submitted a secret report to the admiral commanding that in his opinion and that of many American and British officers war could not be put off more than four years.

After referring to his "undiplomatic remarks," at the Guild Hall in London several years ago when he asserted that Great Britain and the United States would be found together in the next war, he reviewed the work of the navy, saying it had co-operated closely with the American army in keeping communication lines.

"There was no friction," Admiral Sims said. "That may seem a platitude, but all my reading of naval history has convinced me that this was the first instance in the world where army and navy really cooperated. Most of the commanders spend the balance of their lives writing how the other fellow was mistaken. I have the greatest admiration for John Pershing. He had the greatest job any commander ever had and you could be surprised if you knew the trouble we had to get the army to the front."

Tribute to Pershing

"I not only have the greatest regard for General Pershing, but the greatest contempt for the way certain people in the United States are criticizing him. If anyone needs praise, he does, with a lot of small things on the other side barking at his heels."

Admiral Sims paid a tribute to his staff, several of whom he mentioned as having been responsible for the success of the American navy in European waters and said he considered it "not only the best organization the United States navy ever had, but the only one."

John R. MacAfee in presenting a box silver tea and coffee service, the gift of Americans in London, said that Admiral Sims had been sent to his post not needing diplomacy, but "without being a diplomat he had been actively diplomatic."

Mr. MacAfee announced that a credit had been arranged in New York for Mrs. Sims with which she would purchase for herself a present of her own selection.

EMIL COTTIN MUST PAY DEATH PENALTY

PARIS, March 14.—Emil Cottin, the Anarchist who recently made an attempt upon the life of Premier Georges Clemenceau, was today sentenced to death by the court martial which was trying him. The verdict of the court martial was unanimous.

"Rarely has a crime," says the report, "been accomplished with more sustained premeditation, more mature design and more impracticable tenacity with a certainty of method which it seemed would infallibly lead to a fatal result."

Cottin is described in the report as primitive, vain and conceited and believing himself omniscient. He was able to earn thirty-seven francs a day easily, yet finding society badly organized, was desirous of destroying everything. The document gives expert medical opinion unreservedly holding Cottin responsible for his actions.

HEALTH CONDITIONS IN CAMPS GOOD

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Satisfactory health conditions in army camps at home with a decline in the number of influenza and pneumonia cases is noted in the report of the surgeon general for the week ending March 7 made public at the war department today.

The report from France is not so satisfactory. There were three times as many cases of pneumonia in proportion as there were among the troops at home, and out of a total of 516 deaths in the expeditionary force during the week 111 were due to pneumonia.

SEC. LANE APPOINTS MINERAL COMMISSION

Washington, March 14.—Appointment by Secretary Lane of the relief commission to adjust claims growing out of government efforts to stimulate production of minerals needed in war was announced today at the interior department. The members are Philip Moore of St. Louis, mining engineer; J. F. Shafer, former senator from Colorado and M. D. Foster, former representative from Illinois.

DECLARE QUARTERLY DIVIDEND

Independence, Kans., March 14.—The Prairie Oil and Gas Company today declared a quarterly dividend of $3.00 with an extra dividend of $2.00 a share payable April 30 on stock of record, March 31.

Demonstrations in Korea in Favor of Independence

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Official advice received by the state department today from the Orient described the independence movement in Korea as a spontaneous one which had assumed large proportions. No effort at organized resistance to Japanese authority has been undertaken but demonstrations and meetings have been held thruout the country.

Many of the demonstrations were repressed by the Japanese authority but it was said the Japanese later adopted a more conciliatory attitude. Immediate demands of the Koreans included freedom of speech, right of petition and the teaching of the Korean language in the schools with ultimate independence for the country. The state department issued this statement on the demonstrations:

"The department of state has received information relative to the recent disturbances at Zeoul and other parts of Korea which resulted in the arrest of a large number of rioters. The trouble seems to have originated thru the circulation of a document signed by three Koreans containing attacks upon the Japanese government and declaring the independence of Korea. A parade, composed largely of students of Japan and mission schools was broken up by the police at Zeoul. Disorders occurred at other points.

"A telegram received by the department reports that on March 12 the street demonstrations had practically ceased at Zeoul and elsewhere and that only fifteen percent of the active participants were Christians, that the principal leaders were members of a new political religious society and that foreign missionaries were not connected with the movement. The object of the demonstration is stated to obtain freedom of speech, right of petition and use of the Korean language in schools."

SEN. FALL OPPOSES PRESENT LEAGUE PLAN

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 14.—"If the present league of nations plan is adopted Great Britain will rule the league and I object to America's becoming again a subsidiary country to the British isles," declared U. S. Senator Fall of New Mexico today in addressing the chamber of commerce here.

"If the league of nations had existed in 1774 there would be no United States now," continued the senator. "Other nations would have jumped in and nipped in the bud the revolution that gave us our independence."

"As a league, I do not oppose it. There are many provisions which I would gladly adopt, for the benefit of the United States and the world at large. But even these were adopted along this country would give up untold rights of sovereignty which we have possessed and defended since independence day."

"The charter of the league provides for every self-governing nation or province to have a voice in the league. This brings in Canada, Australia, India, Ireland and the other English provinces. Thru their vote England will run the world and use us to keep these provinces forever subjected to their mother country."

TRAVELERS MAY DEDUCT EXPENSES

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Commercial travelers receiving allowances for expenses may deduct actual cost of meals and lodging in computing their income tax, according to a ruling given today by Commissioner Roper to George H. Payne, president of the Eastern and Middle West Travelers' Association. Any excess of allowance above money expended must be included in taxable income. Travelers working on straight commission without expense allowance may not deduct their expenses.

GERMAN EDITOR FREED BY JURY

CLEVELAND, O., March 14.—Richard Brenne, editor of the Waechter and Anzeiger, Cleveland German language daily newspaper, on trial in federal court since Tuesday charged with garbling war news dispatches concerning American troops in France was freed in federal court today. Assistant District Attorney Kavanagh asked leaves to dismiss saying that evidence showed little ground for prosecution, but Judge Killis instructed the jury to bring a verdict of acquittal.

WILL NOT ABANDON STAMP CAMPAIGN

Washington, March 14.—Reports that the systematic war savings campaign might be abandoned in some parts of the country were specifically denied today at War Savings headquarters here.

WILSON BACK IN PARIS READY TO CONCLUDE PEACE

Received At Railroad Station By Many Notables

PARIS, March 14.—President Wilson returning to the peace conference after his trip to the United States arrived in Paris shortly after noon today.

The demonstration attending the president's arrival in Paris for his second visit lacked the magnitude of that upon the occasion of his initial appearance last December. Nevertheless it was spontaneous and cordial.

"The people had been purposely kept in ignorance as to which railroad station his train would enter. The president had requested this as he desired to come into the capital this time merely as a private citizen. Nevertheless the population heard early in the day that the station selected was the Invalides and they had assembled there in great numbers by the time his train was due.

The presidential party was met at the station by President Poincare and Madame Poincare, premier Clemenceau, foreign minister Pichon, Secretary of State Lansing, General Tasker H. Bliss, Ambassador Sharp and Admiral Benson. President Poincare gave President Wilson a cordial greeting. The American executive congratulated Premier Clemenceau on his escape from death in the recent attempt to assassinate him.

In Excellent Spirits

President Wilson appeared to be in excellent health and spirit. The president did not carry on the station platform. He left his hand linger longer in that of M. Clemenceau than any one else and spoke earnestly to the premier as they strolled down the long platform. After he had congratulated M. Clemenceau on his escape the premier turned and smilingly said:

"My hide is too thick for a little piece of lead to do me any harm."

Emerging from the station President Wilson immediately entered his motor car which drove at high speed along the left bank of the Seine, crossing the river on Alma Bridge. Arriving in the Place des Etats Unis, the streets were virtually deserted, a fact sharply in contrast with the president's appearance in Paris just three months ago today.

Goes to Work Immediately

President Wilson got to work immediately after his arrival at his new residence in the Place des Etats Unis. Premier Clemenceau was waiting there for the president and the two had a long conference. The president then arranged for a conference at the Hotel de Crillon this afternoon with Premier Clemenceau, Lloyd George and Colonel House.

The president is fully conversant with the work accomplished by the peace delegates. During his voyage from the United States he was constantly in communication with Paris wirelessly. Colonel House took to Brest a large number of papers bearing on the work of the conference during the president's absence.

URGES CO-OPERATION WITH OIL INDUSTRY

NEW YORK, March 14.—Continued co-operation between the oil industry and the government on a peace basis with the value of the war efforts of the industry as a guide was urged in a letter from Fuel Administrator Garfield to the National Petroleum War Service commission read here tonight at a dinner in honor of A. D. Bedford, the committee chairman, who has just received decoration of the Chevalier of the Legion of Honor from the French government.

Recounting the important part petroleum played in the war, Mr. Garfield said the industry was justified in claiming a place among the few great basic industries which furnished the supplies necessary to winning the war.

CONTINUE I. W. W. TRIAL UNTIL SEPTEMBER

WICHITA, Kansas, March 14.—The trial in federal court here of thirty two members of the I. W. W. charged with violation of the espionage act which was attracting wide attention because of the prosecution's announcement that it would endeavor to show a plot to overthrow the government came to an abrupt conclusion today when Judge John C. Pollock continued the case to the September term of court. Judge Pollock in ordering the continuance announced that he desired ample time to consider motions filed by the defense to quash the indictment upon which the men were brought to trial.

Creel Reports His Committee Was Self Sustaining

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Settlement of the accounts of the committee on public information now being made, will show that the committee's domestic work was "virtually self-sustaining," George Creel, chairman of the committee said today. Mr. Creel reiterated today that he had resigned as chairman of the committee. President Wilson, he said, however, had not yet accepted his formal resignation.

Of the original appropriation of $1,250,000 for the committee's domestic work, Mr. Creel said about $300,000 remained unexpended.

Mr. Creel said he had made no plans for his future activities but meant to take an active interest in political affairs. He added it would not be as an office seeker, "but much as a humble assistant in the de-lousing process of which our public life stands in need."

Mr. Creel characterized reports of differences with President Wilson as "so false as to be absurd." He said that it was on the other hand, his greatest pride that he could say "that from the first to the last 'he had only faith, confidence and the most inspiring support from the president."

The committee chairman denied that the American government had since the opening of the peace conference exercised any censorship over news matter between Europe and the United States.

Declares "Blue Sky" Law Hard To Administer

CHICAGO, March 14.—Walter L. Flint, chief clerk in the office of the secretary of state of Illinois on the witness stand today before Federal Judge Landis in the investigation of the Consumers Packing Company, said the Illinois "blue sky" law was hard to administer. He declared that lack of other legislation to provide appropriations to investigate stock selling corporations handicapped his office in investigating concerns seeking permits in the case of the Consumers Packing Company Mr. Flint admitted he knew that the stock held by Rabbi A. J. Messing, one of six persons ordered held to the federal grand jury on a charge of using the mails to defraud had not been paid for in cash, as required, but said he knew the rabbi by reputation and so treated Mr. Messing's note as cash in issuing a license to sell stock in the company. He said that about Dec. 26 last it was shown that the company had realized about $380,000 in stock sales with a sales expense of $193,000 and admitted the latter amount was more than the twenty five per cent permitted by law but said he understood only about 26 per cent was actual sales expense and the remainder attorneys' fees.

The witness said that he had learned a fee of $250 had been paid to Cornelius Doyle, a Springfield lawyer on one occasion.

Judge Landis then ordered the Central Trust Company receiver for the Consumers Packing company to make a demand upon Doyle for the return of the fee.

"The Illinois blue sky law is practically null and void in its operation. Not only is there no appropriation for its enforcement but grounds for refusal to issue licenses to stock selling companies are so insufficient as to make the law entirely ineffective," testified Mr. Flint. It was brought that about 700 companies have obtained permits under the "blue sky" law to sell stock.

TORNADO SWEEPS THRU NEBRASKA VILLAGES

WAHOO, Neb., March 14.—A tornado shortly after 5 o'clock this evening visited a section of the farming community north of here between the villages of Malmo and Colon causing the known death of one, the probable fatal injury of two others and considerable property damage in limited district thru which it swept. CUMMINGS ISSUES CHALLENGE TO CHAIRMAN HAYS

To Place His Party on Record with Respect To League

NEW YORK, March 14.—A challenge to Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican committee to place his party on record with respect to the league of nations was issued here tonight by Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the Democratic national committee in an address at a dinner in his honor at the National Democratic Club.

"I had hoped and still hope," said Mr. Cummings, "that this great league of nations project will not become a partisan question. Is there any reason why Mr. Hays should not put his party upon record in this matter so that the league of nations may have the support of both political parties and of all forward-looking citizens generally?"

Mr. Cummings launched a vigorous attack upon the Republican leaders for what he termed "their unusual efforts during the last two or three years, to regain mastery of the machinery of the government."

"To this purpose," he asserted, "they have brought all their ingenuity, have summoned all their resourcefulness, have magnified beyond all reason minor errors of judgment in the conduct of the great war, have mobilized the forces of irritation and discontent and have made tactful concessions to certain elements which, to say the least show tendencies toward open sedition."

Assails G. O. P. Senate

"When congress adjourned on March 4, an open filibuster against pending legislation was still in progress. The senate declined to consider the most pressing of national needs and wasted precious moments in violent political abuse and vehemence against the league of nations. The Republican leaders have been betrayed into all sorts of indiscretions. Their moderate triumphs of November, 1918 has gone to their heads."

"Ever since the war began in Europe in 1914, our efforts have been vexed by the wild cries of the opposition, proclaiming a war against patriotism and now at the very first sign of a return to partial authority the leaders of the Republican party in the senate have played themselves in opposition to a league of nations and the leaders in the house of representatives have selected for floor leader Congressman Mondell of Wyoming, who voted against the tabling of the McMahon resolution and opposed the selective draft law."

"The idea of a league of nations is not difficult to understand. The plain people understand it. Only learned senators were confused about it. Let us not be disturbed by the action of the dissenting senators. They are engaged in the most ungenerous task in history and their objections are written in the sand."

Preston declined to identify Jebesen's present whereabouts, but said he was not in Germany or the United States

A Northwestern University professor attended a prayer meeting at Evanston the other night and had his automobile stolen some time during the service. Ministers say that the members of the churches here take no chances of this kind. They stay at home.

Talking about the Monroe Doctrine and the fear of "foreign entanglements," the inhabitants of the German islet of Gottschee have petitioned the American commission studying the Austria-Hungarian problems for authority to form a neutral republic under the protection of the American people. Certainly the tasks are many that America might easily assume overseas.

Minnesota people are soon to vote on the question of providing an income tax for state purposes, somewhat along the lines of the federal law. Just what the people of the northern state will do is a question, but if such a law were submitted here the verdict could be given in advance. People hereabout are not in the habit of knowingly voting taxes on themselves.

Some radicals are seemingly getting into control down in Mexico, as legislation now suggested proposes a regulation of the oil industry which would practically destroy the rights of Europe and American owners. This report, together with the one that large supplies of ammunition have recently been shipped to Mexico with the permission of the U. S. doesn't have the sound of a peaceful settlement of various annoying questions in connection with Mexico.

BURLISON'S PROSPERITY.

Postmaster General Burlison is not popular with Illinois newspaper publishers. President Preston of the Illinois Press Association in the recent meeting in Springfield declared that Mr. Burlison belonged on his cattle ranch in Texas instead of holding a cabinet job in Washington. Mr. Burlison is charged with rulings which in the past two years have put nearly 300 Illinois newspapers out of business.

SANE VIEW OF LEAGUE PLANS.

Senator Reed of Missouri is violently opposed to the league of nations plans and Senator Spencer in the same state sees the need of embodying recognition of the Monroe Doctrine. While there is not general approval of the vitriolic attacks made by some public men on the plan, there is a growing belief that amendments urged by a number of the sane leaders are vital to America's future welfare.

WOULD LESSON POLITICS IN MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

A bill is before the Illinois legislature which would provide for non-partisan selection of aldermen and mayor in Chicago and the city council there recently went on record in favor of this measure. It is also proposed to make the office of city clerk and treasurer appointive instead of elective. There is a growing tendency to take municipal affairs out of politics, even in the larger cities. Certainly the millennial days will come when politics is tabooed in Chicago—that city where hundreds of thousands make a business out of politics.

HAS LOST OLD TIME PRESTIGE.

Colonel Watterson is the president of the organization purposing to make a country wide campaign against the league of nations. Colonel Watterson's name doesn't carry as much weight as was true a few years ago. He is recognized as the dean of American editors, a man of great ability and versatility, but he is getting old. His position is indicated by his title, "editor emeritus," of the Louisville Courier-Journal, and the public will remember that he has rabidly opposed woman's suffrage, temperance legislation and other movements which have continued to grow notwithstanding his opposition. Then Colonel Watterson's known antipathy for President Wilson seems to color most of his political utterances and acts these days.

KEEP TOGETHER.

Representative Longworth's attitude on the plan of the "committee of committees" for the Republican organization of the next congress indicates that the troubles between the "old guard" and the "Progressives" in the Republican party are not ended. Mr. Longworth believes that the rules adopted will result in the old order of things against which the Progressives made such a fight a

FUNERALS

The funeral of Milton Long was conducted at his late residence yesterday afternoon, in the presence of a sympathetic gathering and a goodly number of comrades of the Grand Army. Music was in charge of Thomas H. Rapp, W. W. Gillham, Mrs. W. D. Hill and Miss Cora Graham, the selections being "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," "Sweet Bye and Bye," and "Rock of Ages," all of which were beautifully rendered. Rev. M. L. Panner read from the scriptures suitable selections from the old and the new testament, remarking that altho in olden days the people knew less of God than in the present, still it was to Him they went for comfort, as was evidenced by the prophet who wrote in such glowing terms, "Comfort ye my people." He then turned to the writings of Paul and read of the words of the faithful disciple who said of the Master, "Who being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God, but made Himself of no effect, etc."

THE BRITISH NAVY.

The U. S. entered the war when England and France were nearly exhausted and turned the tide in a way that brought victory. But while Americans are justly congratulating themselves on the brave part taken in the conflict, it is well once in a while to note the records which prove the conspicuous part that the allies played. Had it not been for the British navy it would not have been possible to transport the American soldiers across the seas in sufficient numbers to at least bring about the victory in such short time. The British navy report presents remarkable figures which show that between the period of October 1914 and March 1917, that navy transported more than 26,500,000 soldiers connected with the conduct of the war. This was in addition to moving millions of animals and still greater millions of tons of military equipment and rations.

Rippling Rhymes
By Walt Mason

Hard Lines,
The day is damp, the winds are bleak,
My heart's sad, my hinges
bleak, my heart is sad, my hinges bleak, I find it pretty hard to be a cheer-up sunshine bard, and tuning a joyous harp. I'd like to sing in wailing tones, of winding sheets and dead men's bones. I fain would chant a dirge; to tap
a reservoir of tears and sing of vain and aching years I feel a mighty urge. But if I wrote that kind of whine some day when I am feeling fine, I'd run across the poem, and then I'd cry, "My aunt! My hat! Did I produce such slush as that? What bugs were in my dome?" And I would blush to beat the band, for healthy men can't understand the drooling
of the sick; and when one reads
a tearful ode he feels like mopping up the road with some fat rhyming hick. I'd hate to read my deathless lines and find them
full of nautilus whines and sobs
and sighs and moans; and so, no odds how tough I feel I'll try to spring a joyous spiel, or break some collarbones. The day is dark, the winds are bleak, but there'll be brighter days next week
the world will smile again; the sun will push the clouds away and put up forty kinds of hay, and cheer the souls of men.

FUNERALS

The funeral of Milton Long was conducted at his late residence yesterday afternoon, in the presence of a sympathetic gathering and a goodly number of comrades of the Grand Army. Music was in charge of Thomas H. Rapp, W. W. Gillham, Mrs. W. D. Hill and Miss Cora Graham, the selections being "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," "Sweet Bye and Bye," and "Rock of Ages," all of which were beautifully rendered. Rev. M. L. Panner read from the scriptures suitable selections from the old and the new testament, remarking that altho in olden days the people knew less of God than in the present, still it was to Him they went for comfort, as was evidenced by the prophet who wrote in such glowing terms, "Comfort ye my people." He then turned to the writings of Paul and read of the words of the faithful disciple who said of the Master, "Who being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God, but made Himself of no effect, etc."

After reading a brief biography of the deceased Mr. Pontius said in brief: "I speak from the words 'Let this mind be in you which was in Christ.' The apostle exalts the name of Christ above all other things. Man needs a pattern, and an example to follow, and the Savior is our perfect model. Life is of no use unless we have a noble aim and within the home always Christ should be the one ruling power. I knew Mr. Long before he was sick and he was a faithful man loyal to duty and to principle, and in fact, he was a good citizen, honorable and honest in his dealings with men. Then we rise to a higher level for when the country's life was in danger he volunteered and served as a true soldier in the army. And now again we rise to a still higher level, when we say that he was an humble follower of the Redeemer. So that he stood four square before the world.

"In all our lives we are taught to be meek and forgiving, but at the same time the day comes when we should raise the sword, unsheath the sword and strike for liberty, because the Bible bids us be true to our government. Mr. Long had in him the mind of Christ when he served his country, when he served his family and when he served his Master. Of course no life is perfect. We all have our failings and our imperfections, but when we strive to do our best then are we accepted of him who said, 'I am the resurrection and the life. He that believeth in me tho he be dead yet shall he live, and he that believeth in me shall never die.' Let us strive so to live that we will have in us the same mind as was in Christ.

At the close of the services the members of the Grand Army gathered about the casket and the beautiful and impressive ritual of the order was carried out, after which the remains were borne to Diamond Grove cemetery by Fred Strandburg, T. A. Ehre, William Handback, Edward Caldwell, William Evans, John Paschall and Al. Thompson.

Mrs. Walter Hollischer and Mrs. Harry Tobin were in charge of the flowers.

EXTRA WEAK FROM SHOES

"A year ago I had my shoes resoled with Neolin Soles. The soles are still in service, and it looks as if I would not be able to wear them out, because the uppers are going first," said W. C. Dickinson, of New Haven Conn.

Good repair shops everywhere carry these tough and durable soles. See for yourself how long they last by having them put on a pair of old shoes. Or if you are in need of new shoes, buy them with Neolin Soles. They cost no more than shoes that give less wear, and you need fewer pairs. They come in many styles for men, women and children.

Neolin Soles are created by Science to be comfortable and waterproof, as well as long-wearing. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels—guaranteed to outwear all other heels.

The Petit Parisien says:

"The decisive days are near at hand for the peace conference. The president of the United States will join in the supreme debates. The conference has progressed greatly. A few sittings will no doubt be sufficient for the realization of unanimous accord between the heads of the great democracies with regard to the principal questions, territorial, arms and military, naval, aerial, economic, financial and social conventions."

Washington, March 14.—Director-General Denmore of the United States employment service today issued a statement requesting business, labor and public welfare interests to keep the soldiers and war workers, employment activities in operation after March 22, when the force of the employment service is to be reduced 80 per cent.

SHIP YARD WORKERS WALK OUT.

Seattle, Wash., March 14.—Nearly 1,000 Seattle ship yard workers who have returned to work since Tuesday have left their post, it became known today because of dissatisfaction with the terms of reinstatement.

One of the chief causes of the new walkout, the men said, was the fact that the bonus system was abolished. Discriminations are also alleged. Most of the men were riveters employed in four steel yards. Unless more men walk out the plants will continue to operate, it was said.

FIGHTERS MATCHED.

Tulsa, Okla., March 14.—Ted "Kid" Lewis, welter weight champion of America has been matched with Willie Laughlin, South Bethlehem, Pa., for a 12-round bout here March 31.

Seattle, Wash., March 14.—With the announced purpose of ridding all logging camps and lumber mills of the state of Industrial Workers of the World and other men of radical sympathies, a state convention of the Loyal Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen will be held soon in Seattle.

Government officials, it was said, have listed some 35,000 alleged radicals in the state logging camps and mills.

NINETEEN BARGES FOR MISSISSIPPI

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Nineteen barges for use on the Upper Mississippi are under construction, but no contracts have been let for tow boats, Chairman Hurley, of the shipping board today wrote Senator Fletcher of Florida, who recently asked what progress was being made in stimulating such traffic. An allotment of $2,369,000 for the purpose was made by President Wilson from his special war fund and that was supplemented by $500,000 from the shipping board. Mr. Hurley said that no definite policy for the maintenance and operation of the craft had been worked out.

MARINE WORKERS STRIKE UNSETTLED

NEW YORK, March 14.—A break in the ranks of the New York Boat Owners' association whose members are fighting a strike of harbor boat workers was claimed tonight by Thomas L. Delahanty, president of the marine workers' affiliation. He issued a list of fourteen private boat owners who, he said, had agreed to follow the example of the railroad administration and other government agencies and grant the union's demand for an eight hour day.

Officials of the boat owners' association insisted, however, that "not a member has strayed from the fold."

DECLARE RESOLUTION AS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Washington, March 14.—The joint resolution of congress prohibiting the election of tenants in the District of Columbia during the war and the increasing of rentals on property leased before the United States entered the world conflict was declared unconstitutional in a decision today by Justice Gould of the District of Columbia supreme court. Justice Gould held that the object of the resolution was not sufficiently connected with the conduct of the war to bring it under the war power of congress.

other forms of altruism and seek to accomplish unitedly what we cannot do singly. He called at-gained. The council will prevent duplication. In the past much valuable time and material have been wasted in this way different enterprises overlapping each other.It will create and maintain a outline of his excellent address is given.These are the days of consolidation and not of over-lapping forces. Some have asked if the anti-tuberculosis forces could show any good reason for their existence. Let me say that during the past fifteen years the death

1896 and the first year the decrease was 30 1/2 per cent. From 1872 to 1892 the decrease was 27 per cent which might seem discouraging but let me say the greatest decrease has been in the past 100 years for which the mortality from this cause was 100 to 100,000 and now it is 140 and this decrease is due to such work as is done by the anti-tuberculosis society and by better modes of living.The great advance has been done since Dr. Koch discovered the bacillus and yet we have spent too much time fighting the bug. In addition to fighting the bug by anti-spitting laws and the like we have discovered that fresh air, good food and sanitary measures are all important. We have found witches do not ride

the air on broom sticks at night
and that fresh air and good rest with ample food will whip the bug. We have progressed in midwifery; we have learned to scrutinize the milk supply. We have many child welfare agencies. We have not so much useless fear of contagion.The counties in our state are far from being alive to the importance of this work. Each county should either have a sanitarium as you are preparing here or else should have a trained nurse and assistant and place all cases in some retreat or under the care of a suitable place for treatment. An evil bill is now before the legislature in substance permitting several counties to unite in forming a district for the treatment of tuberculosis cases. This will mean delay and failure to accomplish the purpose and should be opposed.We should develop a desire for wise legislation. There is an organization in the state among the school children seeking to impart knowledge on this all important subject and already 150, 000 children are enrolled. I do not know how best to arouse the apathetic but it should be done.Moving Pictures and Stereopticon
A series of moving pictures was then enjoyed. It depicted scenes in hospital work but unfortunately the explanatory films were reversed so that they could not be read quickly enough. The list was very good, however. Then came some stereopticon views of hospitals, tuberculosis sanatoria, camps, homes and places for treating the dread malady. Many interesting buildings, tent colonies and other features were exhibited and explained by Mr. Pontius. Much enthusiasm was evoked when the sanatorium of Morgan county was shown on the screen.Miss Katherine Olmsted, was then introduced with many highly and well deserved complimentary remarks by Dr. Milligan.The young lady's address was simply grand and superb and should have a broadside instead of the limited space made necessary by the lateness of the hour.
Her story was thrilling and held the audience in rapt attention throughout. She said in part:

"I have had some thrilling experiences. When the Queen of tors and Red Cross nurses was sent to them with a cargo of food and supplies away around the Pacific route. We stopped in Japan and were indeed delighted with what we saw there in ten days.The Red Cross has a fine building and admirable equipment and we saw 300 patients with 500 nurses. A baroness was in charge and she had been to our country and had seen the dress

and ways and had followed them.
The nurses occupied their time in suitable drilling and other useful ways and were not idle. We proceeded on to Vladivostok
which we found extremely dirty and infested with beggars who seemed to do a thriving trade.
On Czar's Private Train.

"We were furnished with the Czar's private train and it was truly a magnificent outfit; elegant and voluptuous but we were 52 days on it and it became monotonous. We had to stop to cut wood for the engine, and the rivers we stopped for bathing and bath and occasionally to kill some of the live stock. We had on the train. Reaching Moscow
we found things quiet but tense.
Men were saying little but feeling much. The opposite of what it was in Siberia.

"When we reached Roumania
at last we found a great difference. Our gypsies came from Roumania and are a carefree people but are sadly changed now.
Our supplies had been held up on the way and when we reached the city at which we were to stop the conditions cannot be described.

"The able bodied men had long before been destroyed in the army and we were confronted with hosts of starving women and children, and in one place which was an excuse for a hospital were several hundred mere boys, 15 years old, more or less, who had been pressed into the army and sent back sick and wounded, and no one knew a thing to do and had little or nothing to do with.

"We were almost desperate.
Boxes were improvised for dressing tables, pocket knives for instruments and in that pitiful manner as much as possible was done for them. Every day the ox carts would take the place of gathering up the dead to be dropped in a trench, and then most heart-rending of all came in the children
cruelly maimed by heartless Germans; hands cut off, eyes destroyed and mutilations too awful to mention.

"We did everything we could
for them and gained their good will so that they had all confidence in us.

Christmas Tree for Roumanians
"As Christmas drew near we tried in some way to prepare a present for each and our supplies having arrived we were able to do something for them. Our men cut a large tree and with pieces of candle we managed to illuminate it a little and prepare a present for each one, greatly to their gratification. At last we learned that we had remained in the country too long and a terrible time we had getting out.

"Weary marches, slowly dragging over a nearly ruined railroad, plodding from day to day hither and yon, we finally after incredible hardships reached Lapland, for a few weeks, we greatly enjoyed a visit with those peculiar people. They learned to love us and we took up long rides in their little reindeer sledges, we visited them in their homes and in every way fully enjoyed the three weeks spent there.

Trip to England.
"Finally a rickety boat appeared, capable of accommodating probably 400 people, but 1,300 wanted to get away and on we went, greatly risking our lives,
but we escaped the mines and storms, and at last landed in New Castle and proceeded to London.
Never, can I forget, the cheerful manner in which hard privations and toil were endured by our British friends.

"When our American troops
were to be reviewed we went out to see them. We presented a strange spectacle. Our clothes were in rags, our shoes soled
with automobile tires, our hats dilapidated and we were generally down and out, but were greatly inspired by what we saw of our brave men, grandly, joyously,
willingly marching to the duty
which they knew meant hardship,
sickness, wounds and death.

"And now I come home to help improve matters here. I have carried away with me two pictures which I can never forget.
In a country school I saw a child
on a cold day eating some cold unwholesome cakes, prepared by a mother with plenty of means but little knowledge. The other picture of a young mother in Jacksonville, with a tender babe, simply clad with a dirty wrap,
and I want to work with you so that in Morgan county every child may be so reared that it will grow to a hearty, healthy maturity."

OIL PROSPECTS

AT YATES CENTER.

Bert Young has returned from a business trip to Yates Center, Kans., accompanied by his attorney, F. L. Gregory. They made this trip on business in connection with a tract of land which
Mr. Young's mother, Mrs. R. J.
Young, owned. It is an 80-acre tract just outside the limits of Yates Center and special interest attaches to the property now because of oil and gas developments during recent months. A well on the land adjoining that owned by Mrs. Young, and in fact located not more than 100 feet from the line of her property, is now producing 75 barrels of oil a day.
Within a half mile of the land is a very heavy producing gas well and there is oil and gas developments all about. It is not a field where there is great excitement
but the development is steady and when the Jacksonville men made their recent visit there were several drilling outfits just beginning work and still others will come into the territory as weather conditions permit.

Mrs. Young was recently made an excellent offer to lease her land but has decided not to be in a hurry about completing arrangements.

FROM COUNTY AGENT'S OFFICE

Farmers Organize.—Great interest is shown in the Illinois Agricultural Association in the various counties. In Hancock county 72 men walked up and signed individual membership cards. The men who did so were very informed as to what they were doing and took action because they wanted to join the state organization. In Hancock county they recently organized a farm bureau on a $15 basis $5 to go to the state organization. In Vermillion county the move-for the state organization has met with such favor that the farm bureau membership bids fair to go to the 1000 mark. According to a recent ruling of the executive committee of the state association counties having organized farm bureaus prior to March 15, 1919 may come into the association at $100 per year until the next re-organization period. For the good of the cause, however, such counties are urged to encourage their members to take individual memberships in the state organization. A number of Morgan county farmers have already done this. Are we about ready as an association to get into the game?

Farm Accounts and the Income Tax.—A great many farmers have had difficulty in making income tax returns because they had not adopted a plan of keeping systematic record of farm transactions. The College of Agriculture has worked out a very simple farm account book that will lessen this difficulty another year. Further, if this system is followed, a farmer can tell whether a particular line of farming is profitable or not. This system was thoroughly explained in the schools of farm accounting held in Morgan county this fall. If any farmer failed to attend this school we shall be glad to furnish him information in regard to what we consider an inexpensive system of farm accounting. Further, we shall gladly assist members in opening and closing these books each year.

WOUNDED SOLDIER RETURNS TO WHITE HALL

Dean Raines Who Was Severely Wounded in France is Now at Home—Has Been in Hospitals For Many Months—Other News Notes.

White Hall, March 14.—Dean Raines, son of Rev. J. O. Raines, reached home Friday morning, after a long and arduous journey. He was badly wounded last summer, and hovered between life and death in hospitals overseas until last fall, when he had sufficiently recovered to be brought to America, since which time he has been at Fort Des Moines, Iowa. He will not receive callers for a couple of days, and then he promises a good account of his experiences.

The remains of John Painter were brought here Thursday from Fidelity, Jersey county, arrived at 11 o'clock, and immediately thereafter funeral services were held in the M. E. church. The discourse was by the pastor, Rev. Leo Howard. While not a war veteran, a request of the deceased that he be buried by members of the G. A. R. was carried out, the pall bearers being J. S. Baker, Henry Gogges, L. N. Ballard, F. M. Walton, S. J. Riggs and John C. Price. The remains were buried in the High Street cemetery.

High Street was a native of the High Street neighborhood, six miles southeast of White Hall, and at death his age was 74 years, 11 months and 11 days. His wife died in 1889, since which time he has resided among the five surviving children, who are Mrs. Geo. D. Addison of Jerseyville, Mrs. Edward Aldridge of White Hall, Mrs. F. E. Chism of Fidelity, Francis M. Painter of Roodhouse and Otis of White Hall. For the past year he had been ill with a complication of diseases, at the home of his youngest daughter at Fidelity, where his death occurred at 10 o'clock on Tuesday. At the age of 68 years he united with the M. E. church at Otterville, Jersey county.

His brothers are James N. Painter of White Hall and William of Greenfield, and his sisters are Mrs. Edward Taylor of Ardmore, Oklahoma, Mrs. R. D. Heberling and Mrs. Sylvester Edwards of White Hall.

High Spots in White Hall Gossip. W. C. Barton, traveling representative of the Simmons Hardware Co., of St. Louis, is dangerously ill at his home in this city. He is a victim of influenza, having been taken ill some time ago.

George Prindle arrived Wednesday from France. He did not get into the fighting zone.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hankins of Red Wing, Minn., spent a couple of days this week with friends and neighbors of a dozen years ago. He is best remembered as a member of the old White Hall Republican Glee club that toured distant cities and states in the days of Harrison and McKinley.

Clement Knight, son of A. E. Knight, was unconscious for 24 hours following a fall Wednesday, while pole vaulting at the home of Henry Roodhouse. The pole slipped and he sat on the ground with great force. The fear of a blood clot on the brain was dispelled with his return to consciousness. His father is ill with appendicitis and a hired hand is suffering injuries from being kicked by a mule.

A special meeting of the city council was held Wednesday evening to adopt resolutions favorable to the proposed amendment to the public utilities law. Mayor Boehm was designated to represent the city at the municipal banquet in the Leland hotel at Springfield next Tuesday.

Rev. Leo Howard spoke at a Methodist centenary meeting in Greenfield Thursday evening.

A dinner party in honor of Mesdames Sarah Higbee and Isaac D. Vedder Sr., will be at the home of Miss Dora McFarland next Thursday. Mrs. Higbee will be 96 years of age on that day, and Mrs. Vedder will be 93 in June. Both ladies can get around and enjoy themselves with the exception of impaired vision and hearing.

The venerable Mrs. L. V. Dayton is seriously ill. D. P. Hollis, of Macomb, was in town Thursday in the interest of the extension department of the Macomb State Normal.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief. Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frozen feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable. 30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

Stop the "Snuffles"

If you want to make your distressed babies easy and comfortable, give Foley's Honey and Tar.

It is just what they ought to have for feverish colds, coughs, "snuffles," and wheezy breathing. It stops croup, too.

Foley's Honey and Tar tastes good and the little ones like it. It contains no morphine, chloroform or other drug that you wouldn't like to give to young children. Do not accept a substitute.

Mrs. E. H. Garrett, Schoolfield, Va., writes: "My baby was stricken with a severe cough and cold at one month old. I gave him ten to fifteen drops of Foley's Honey and Tar every three hours and it surely did help him. He hasn't been sick in six weeks."

Gas Illumination

Gas when used through proper fixtures gives a most satisfactory room illumination. The light obtained is soft, subdued, quiet and easy on the eyes.

This was not so true in earlier years, but science has made rapid strides in this direction until gas lighting now is almost perfection.

If your house is piped for gas, and you are using gas now, we would like to make certain that you are getting the best possible satisfaction therefrom.

We are making a Special Gas Fixture Display of interest to you

"Reflex" Inverted Gas Lights

"C. E. Z." Upright Gas Lights

Gas illumination is economical and satisfactory when proper fixtures are used.

If you are using gas and are not entirely satisfied with results obtained, we wish that you would tell us about it—let us know at once your troubles and we will see that they are corrected. We have a full line of mantles and globes for all styles of fixtures, and hose for gas lamps and heaters.

We have a number of old style globes — perhaps you would like one of these to match a set where one has been broken.

SUPT. WOOLSTON TALKED TO STUDENTS

Gave Women's College Students Idea of Rehabilitation Work to Be Done For Blind Soldiers—Practical Demonstration by Hugh Sutherland.

Superintendent R. W. Woolston of the Illinois School for the Blind gave interesting talk to the students of Illinois Woman's College at Chapel Friday morning.

The work of rehabilitating blind soldiers was the subject of the talk. In this Mr. Woolston brought out the fact that the work done at the local school is the same that will be used in making soldiers who lost their eye-sight in the world war self-sustaining. The thought he brought to his hearers was that the work of re-education of the soldier, as an illustration he used one of the pupils of the blind, Hugh Sutherland who gave a demonstration of Braille reading.

Hugh Sutherland is a resident of Chicago and was a student in the public schools of that city until he graduated from the eighth grade. He was then suddenly stricken blind and was sent to the school for the blind here.

The task of re-educating him was the problem of the faculty of the school. That this was accomplished successfully was shown by his demonstration yesterday. He is a senior and graduates in June and has specialized in typewriting and dictaphone operating.

So to the men who had reached maturity and entered the army and lost their eyesight by gas and wounds, the problem is a big one for the government to rehabilitate them and fit them for self supporting work. It is in most instances more difficult to train these grown men than it is to train a child or a younger person who has not received an education under normal conditions.

Miss Jennie Pastdurack sang two numbers with Miss Rebecca Scheibel as accompanist. This young woman earned $100 last summer taking subscriptions for a magazine which shows that she was not greatly handicapped by blindness.

SERG. HUGHES' FUNERAL TO BE HELD MONDAY

Body of Deceased Jacksonville Soldier will Arrive Sunday Morning—Relatives Here for Services.

Brief mention was made yesterday of the death of Sergt. Harry W. Hughes. Mrs. Josephine Hughes of 403 West College avenue, received a telegram yesterday from Gen. John A. Nelson of the U. S. Army, stating that the remains of her son, Sergt. Harry Hughes, whose death occurred on board the transport America at sea March 7, will arrive in Jacksonville Sunday morning at 10:15 o'clock over the Chicago & Alton. Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Monday morning at Diamond Grove cemetery, in charge of Rev. M. L. Pontius, pastor of Central Christian church. As Sergt. Hughes' death was the result of cerebral spinal meningitis it is not possible to hold a service at the house or the church.

The deceased was the son of the late T. M. and Mrs. Josephine Hughes of this city and was one of the first Jacksonville young men to enter the service. He enlisted with her here and went with the organization to Quincy. After a brief period of training he went to a Texas camp and a little later on was sent overseas. He saw many months of active service and was at the front when the armistice brought an end to the fighting. He received his discharge from the service, according to a letter which came a few weeks since, and was on his way to his home in this city when he became ill and died.

Sergt. Hughes was born in 1893 in Oaktown, Ky., but had lived for a number of years in Jacksonville. His father preceded him in death, as did his brother, Herbert Hughes, who passed away at Dallas, Tex., in October. The last mentioned was a wealthy resident of Dallas, a junior member of the wholesale firm of Blair, Hughes & Co. Mr. Hughes went thru such a strain in the Liberty Loan campaign that he contracted the flu and died after a very brief illness.

The deceased was industrious and exemplary in his manner of life and his untimely death is a great sorrow to his relatives and friends. He is survived by his mother, living here, and two sisters, Mrs. J. D. Clark of 403 West College avenue, and Mrs. Gertrude Brooks, Jackson, Miss. There are also three brothers: Henry Hughes of Cleburne, Texas; Thomas C. of Los Angeles, Cal.; and Leslie M. Hughes. Mrs. Gertrude Brooks, sister of the deceased, and H. D. Warden, a cousin, will arrive today from Jackson, Mich. Mrs. Herbert Hughes, accompanied by her father, Wiley Blair, a millionaire resident of Dallas, Tex., will reach Jacksonville Sunday night and Henry W. Hughes of Cleburne, Texas, also a brother of the deceased, will arrive tonight or tomorrow.

J. BART JOHNSON

THE CUMBERLAND AND MERRIMAC

It was just about this time in the year 1862 that the mighty event occurred which revolutionized naval warfare, and helped to save the great republic.

It was of it that the poet, Longfellow, wrote:

"At anchor in Hampton Roads we lay.

On board the Cumberland, sloop of war;

And at times from the fortress across the bay

The alarm of drums swept past,

Or a bugle blast

From the camp on the shore.

Then far away to the south uprose

A little feather of snow white smoke.

And we knew that the iron ship

Of our foes

Was steadily steering its course

To try the force

Of our ribs of oak."

And this was the beginning of the battle between the Monitor and the Merrimac.

The matter was recalled Friday night, in a family reminiscence told at a company, in an aside, by a young woman.

The lady was Mrs. Staff, wife of Dr. L. E. Staff, of Jordan street.

Her story was short, as her father seldom told of his part in the conflict. But her father was an engineer on the Merrimac in that fateful fight. Her father still lives at Burlington, Iowa, past three score and ten, in age. He was a native of St. Louis, Mo., but had gone south before the war in search of work, and the conflict between the states found him south of Mason and Dixon's line.

There, in some way, he was put on the Confederate iron-clad Merrimac as an engineer, and had his part in that capacity, in one of the world shaking incidents of our Civil War. Unfortunately the lady knew little about the incidents of the affair, as her father was averse to talking of it.
